

PO / Invoicing / Payment Procedures at Fidel

Normally, jobs are assigned to you by Fidel project managers via email.

You're expected to confirm that you're able to meet the requirements on quality and deadline by email at your earliest convenience. If you proceed with a job without confirming it, we cannot guarantee accepting the job, as we may have sent it to other translators who confirmed it.

Purchase Order (PO)

There should be a PO for each job. It is issued by the project manager when you accept the job, or later while the job is going on, or when the job is completed. The date of PO being issued is not related to the date of payment. Where multiple POs are issued for the same job, the latest one will be effective.

Invoicing

Invoicing will be done on a monthly basis. Fidel will generate the invoice for you for the work done in the previous month and send it to you for verification by 10th of this month. This invoice will have the list of all the projects you have worked on for Fidel along with the PO details associated for that project. You just need to verify and send an acceptance or any query for that invoice within a week's time of receiving the invoice. The queries will be resolved and the accepted invoice will be paid by 15th of the next month.

e.g. For all the work that you have done and accepted by the client in the month of March, Fidel will send you the Invoice by 10th April, which you will need to verify & accept by 17th April and Payment will be done by 15th May for that Invoice.

Payment

The normal average payment term is 45 days from the invoice date and is based upon successful completion of a project. Please note completion means client acceptance of the final deliverables, not your delivery of files to the project manager.

For accumulative invoices issued monthly, payment is processed monthly too. There can be jobs listed in an invoice but not included in a payment. This should be because the project is still ongoing, or was completed at a later date.

Fidel will cover all fees charged by its bank, but not those charged by any intermediary banks or your bank.

Confidentiality

Please always be aware that you are bound by the non-disclosure agreement (NDA) with Fidel, and shall not disclose to any other party any information regarding Fidel, Fidel's clients, or their projects, products or activities. Any breach of the NDA would entitle Fidel to take the necessary legal and/or financial actions against you.

I have read & understood this Payment policy & the process written in English and accept the same.
